

Dear FCC,

I have learned recently about attempts to limit the local content provided by satellite radio services by congress. Please know that the informed public sees this free speech issue as the similar to the battle already fought (and won!) which allows satellite TV services to offer local channels. Please let the free market place decide who delivers the better service and respect free enterprise, and competition!

Sincerely,
John Uhte